 Different kinds of information takes different amounts of space.
 Types we have seen so far: int, float, str and objects (e.g. turtles).

CS Survey

You see a woman. We see the future of tech.

We Are Digital Enthusiasts

Jump start your future this January with a three-week Winternship.

What's a Winternship?

A Winternship is a PAID, three-week internship in NYC, open to first- and second-year women at CUNY during their January academic recess.

Why should I apply for a Winternship? You'll learn more about job opportunities in tech and computing, build your resume, and expand your professional network.

Who can apply?

All first- and second-year women at CUNY who are interested in learning more about tech careers. You may be a computer science major, or you may not be. There are no academic requirements to apply. What are you waiting for?

Applications are now open for WiTNY Winternship!

IMPORTANT DATES October 5, 2018: Applications due

Mid-November- Placements announced

witny.org/students

· January 7-24, 2019: Winternships take place in NYC and the surrounding tri-state area

Questions? Maria DiKun. Program Coordinator. WiTNY | wit-nv@cornell.edu
